Shilpa Puts an End to the Dirk-Shilpa romance Speculation

Much has been made about the pleasantries exchanged between Dirk Benedict and our Shilpa and even a romance has been hinted at when Dirk himself confessed he found her stunning and imagined what a Bollywood film with the both of them would be like. Since they entered the house and met they've been having conversations that count as the most intelligent and deep in the house. But the romance was nipped in the bud today as Shilpa confessed she'd probably end up marrying an Indian man.

Shilpa told an interested Carole and Cleo about her family at home, and how she doesn't have many friends due to the nature of the industry she works in. She notes: "I've slogged my ass off for this... I started working at the age of 17, all my friends are from my fraternity, all are actors. I have no normal friends from the outside world."

As she massaged Carole's neck she revealed 'I'll probably marry an Indian man'. She also revealed she'd probably meet him at a wedding. Four seconds later Indian+wedding+Shilpa was googled 4,682 times.
